

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

- A holographic optical recording medium includes a plastic substrate, a first inorganic intermediate layer formed on the plastic substrate, and an organic recording layer on which information is recorded by using holography. The organic recording layer is formed on the first inorganic intermediate layer.
- 5